Polysciences, Inc. Receives National Performance Improvement Honor SOCMA Recognizes Polysciences, Inc. for Commitment to Improving Environmental, Health, Safety & Security

Warrington, PA, December 30, 2015 – Polysciences, Inc. is pleased to announce they have been recognized for exemplary efforts in improving their environmental, health, safety and security by the Society of Chemical Manufacturers and Affiliates (SOCMA), a trade association representing specialty chemical manufacturers.

Polysciences, Inc. participates in SOCMA's ChemStewards® program, which encourages companies to operate their facilities in an environment that guarantees safety and environmental compliance to all stakeholders.

Polysciences, Inc. accepted a Bronze Performance Improvement Award at SOCMA's 94th Annual Dinner on December 7th in New York City. Michael Ott, Scott Knorr, Thomas Foster, Thai Nguyen and Mitchell Maurstad accepted the award on behalf of the company at the awards dinner.

The Warrington, PA sites were recognized for their successful efforts to develop and implement the SOCMA ChemStewards Chemical Operator Training program to enhance their current EHS&S program, and awareness around OSHA compliance.

"We are extremely proud of the hard work our employees have done on our EHS&S program. This award reflects our commitment to constant improvement for our products, our workers and our neighbors in the community," said President and CEO Mike Ott.

"In today's business world it is incumbent upon companies to be good environmental stewards and create a culture at their facilities that will ensure the safety and security of not only their employees but the community in which they live," said SOCMA President Lawrence D. Sloan. "We congratulate Polysciences, Inc. and its employees on this achievement, and we encourage them to continue these efforts through the ChemStewards Performance Improvement Program."
